Aims and Scope: Heart, Lung and Circulation publishes original articles, current reviews, brief communications, case reports and letters to the Editor concerned with clinical practice and research in the fields of cardiology, cardiac surgery and basic cardiovascular science. All manuscripts are reviewed by two or more expert referees. Papers accepted become the copyright of the journal. Heart, Lung and Circulation is indexed in the Australian Medical Index and EMBASE/Excerpta Medica.

Note: Papers are accepted for publication on the understanding that they have not been published or submitted for review elsewhere. Potential conflicts of interest must be disclosed, and Authors are advised that Heart, Lung and Circulation will not review or publish articles based on studies that are conducted under conditions that allow the sponsor to have sole control of the data or to withhold publication.
